Overview

Every organisation, whatever its size or history, has a culture (simply defined as ‘the way we do things around here’). The culture of an organisation is based on assumptions and values about organisations, working life and relationships. These values influence the way people behave towards each other and customers, and how they relate to their work. There may be no such thing as a ‘right’ or ‘wrong’ culture. However, the culture of an organisation has to be in line with its overall vision and strategy. If culture and strategy do not match, it is unlikely the vision will be achieved.

This standard is relevant to managers and leaders with responsibility for developing their organisation’s values and culture.

This standard has close links with CFAM&LBA5 Develop your organisation’s vision and strategy and CFAM&LBA7 Promote equality of opportunity, diversity and inclusion.

Overview

This standard is about forming a team and developing it through its various stages of growth. It covers teams set up for a particular project or to carry out a specific task and also teams that are ongoing. It is equally relevant to cases where the manager has to set up the team from scratch and to those situations where the manager inherits an existing team and needs to help it to function effectively.

This standard is relevant to managers and leaders who are responsible for leading teams either on an on-going basis or for a one-off project.

This standard links closely with a number of other standards, such as, CFAM&LBA3 Lead your team, CFAM&LFA5 Manage projects and all the other standards in key area CFAM&LDB Manage teams.

This standard is relevant to managers and leaders who have a specific responsibility for coaching individuals.

This standard links closely with all the other standards in key area DC Develop and support individuals.
